

Natasha Freimark
612.336.9207 – work
612.741.0787 - cell
nfreimark@mspmag.com

Mpls.St.Paul Magazine's March issue is packed with everything that makes the Twin Cities one of the most appetizing places to live. From unique foods and hangouts to stylish social events, see why Minnesota residents love to live here. Here are some highlights that would make great fodder for your audience:

COVER STORY: Best Restaurants 2013

Our foodie critics serve up the best of Twin Cities dining hotspots, including Birdhouse, Wise Acre Eatery, and The Bachelor Farmer. Plus, readers give us their top picks.

FEATURE: Tastemakers

Introducing seven behind-the-scenes trendsetters from Salut, North Star Bartender's Guild, Chef's Edge food truck, and Stock and Badge.

FEATURE: Last Interview

Ian Punnett was on the radio for 38 years before a severe case of tinnitus forced him to retire his mic. In his exit interview with reporter Steve Marsh, he talks about everything from how he got his start to what's next.

SHOPPING + STYLE: Editor Allison Kaplan dishes on fresh ways to wear the season's hottest trend: stripes.

TRAVEL: How a skeptic learned to love Orlando.

EAT + DRINK: Editor Stephanie March discovers 3 Tiers Bakery Bistro in Minneapolis. Plus, Dara Moskowitz Grumdahl reviews newly-opened Hmong House in North St. Paul.

EVENT: Tastemakers

Meet the top Twin Cities mixologists who are turning cocktails into an art form. Join us for cocktail samples, appetizers and great conversation on March 13 from 6-8PM at the Ritz Theatre. Visit www.mspmag.com/tastemakers for more information!

Let us make your job easier! Our editorial team stays ahead of the people, places, and things that are defining life in the Twin Cities and are available to bring these topics (and others) to life in your programming.

Please contact Marketing & Events Director, Natasha Freimark

(nfreimark@mspmag.com or (w) 612.336.9207, (c) 612.741.0787) to schedule an appearance of one of our team for an upcoming show.

Best,

Jayne Haugen Olson
Editorial Director
Mpls.St.Paul Magazine
612.336.9272
jolson@mspmag.com